Dear Clients and Friends,

I am pleased to let you know that once again, your Financial Advisor, Chris Davis of Davidson Wealth Management of Wells Fargo Advisors has been ranked number eight on the North Carolina list of top advisors as part of the nation's top 1000 advisors by Barron's financial weekly. The ranking is generally regarded as a benchmark for success, client satisfaction and integrity in the financial services industry.¹

While Chris may not say anything about this himself, I thought that you, as one of his valued clients, should know. He and his team do a great job exemplifying our company's commitment to providing clients with smart, custom-fit investment strategies, first-rate service and best-in-class products and resources. During these rapidly changing economic times, I'm sure you're happy to know that you have a top advisor helping you look out for your assets and investments.

Such consistent recognition confirms our respect for Chris and his team's distinguished career of service to clients like you. I hope you will join me and all of us at Wells Fargo Advisors, in congratulating them.

Sincerely,
